

5.1 Making it Interactive Video Script

Now is a good time to think about how you will keep participants engaged by building interaction into your session. There are many ways to encourage active participation; you may wish to scatter small bursts of activities throughout the workshop, or opt for one or two longer, more in-depth tasks.

Whatever approach you take, ensure that each interactive element has a clear purpose. As you plan, you should constantly be asking yourself; 'how will this activity help participants achieve the learning objective?'

Ideas for participant contributions include:

- Verbal sharing
- Written responses
- Polls
- Group discussions

It's also important to create a safe and inclusive environment. To support this, all forms of sharing should be optional, allowing participants to engage in ways that feel comfortable to them.
